INTERCULTURAL INNOVATION AWARD: In April, UNAOC, in partnership with BMW Group, hosted a workshop in Berlin, Germany, for the alumni of their joint programme, the Intercultural Innovation Award. Participants were selected from different editions of the programme and came from all around the globe. The workshop was designed to be an interactive learning experience during which participants shared experiences about their work in the field of intercultural dialogue, as well as best practices, challenges, and success stories, and reflected upon the future of the alumni network of the Intercultural Innovation Award. Later in the year, UNAOC and BMW Group announced the ten projects that were selected for the 2019 edition of the Intercultural Innovation Award and revealed the final ranking during a ceremony in December at the Royal Theatre in Madrid, Spain. The projects were selected among 1,200+ applications from 128 countries, and are all innovative grassroots projects fostering intercultural dialogue and cooperation. They will receive financial support and mentoring from UNAOC and BMW Group to help them expand and replicate. To learn more about the selected projects, visit interculturalinnovation.org, and follow #iiaward.

PLURAL+: The High Representative for UNAOC and the Director General of the International Organization for Migration (IOM), Mr. António Vitorino, announced the winners of their joint initiative, the PLURAL+ Youth Video Festival, during an Awards Ceremony at the UN Headquarters in November. Selected for their coverage of migration, diversity, and social inclusion, the winning videos were chosen among 1,200+ submissions from 70+ countries – a record number of entries. An international jury composed of Athar Ahmad (BBC News), Axel Caballero (HBO), Aya Chebbi (African Union Youth Envoy), Lula Dualeh (Digital Advocacy Strategist), Maha Jaafar (YouTube Creator for Change), Chaker Khazaal (Author and Journalist), Tania Safi (Video Journalist and Producer), and Arun Venugopal (WNYC) helped select the winners. UNAOC also worked to raise the visibility of PLURAL+ videos by featuring them in several events, including the ECOSOC Youth Forum and the Forum on Indigenous Issues in April.

FELLOWSHIP: UNAOC selected 24 young civil society leaders from Europe, North America, the Middle East, and North Africa for the 11th edition of its Fellowship programme. In the summer, the EUNA cohort traveled to Morocco, Egypt, and Qatar, and the MENA group visited Germany, Spain, and the USA in the fall. They met with representatives of international institutions, governments, civil society, and media to discuss the 2019 theme, “The role of women in peace-making and conflict prevention.” In December, UNAOC organized an event at the Permanent Mission of Germany to the UN, which featured 15 UNAOC Fellows who shared recommendations on the inclusion of women in mediation efforts and PVE. The Fellowship Programme of UNAOC is made possible by the financial contributions of the governments of Azerbaijan, Germany, and Spain, and the support of the governments of Morocco and Qatar and the League of Arab States.

YOUNG PEACEBUILDERS: UNAOC selected 40 young women and men from the Middle East and North Africa for the 3rd and 4th editions of Young Peacebuilders, a peace education initiative supported by AEXCID (Agencia Extremeña de Cooperación Internacional para el Desarrollo) that helps grow and strengthen the global movement of young peacebuilders. The two 2019 editions supported participants in gaining competencies to address negative stereotypes while bringing visibility to their projects towards the promotion of intercultural and interfaith dialogue. In July, the Young Peacebuilders of the third edition participated in an online preparatory phase followed in October by a one-week in-person workshop in Merida, Spain, to practice peacebuilding skills. They are now back in their communities around the MENA region implementing their own peace initiatives under the guidance of UNAOC, and the Young Peacebuilders of the 4th edition started their online preparation phase in December 2019.

YOUTH SOLIDARITY FUND: UNAOC selected five youth-led organizations out of more than 600 applications from over 70 countries for the 8th edition of its Youth Solidarity Fund. Selected candidates come from the Kingdom of Eswatini, Kenya, Lebanon, Sri Lanka, and Uganda and all work to foster inclusive societies through improved understanding and collaboration across cultures, faiths, and beliefs. Starting in November 2019, UNAOC will provide them with seed funding and capacity-building support over one year to implement projects that utilize innovative approaches to intercultural and interfaith dialogue. Throughout the year, UNAOC also worked to raise the visibility of Youth Solidarity Fund recipients and their work, by featuring them in several events, including the ECOSOC Youth Forum in April. The current edition of the Youth Solidarity Fund is made possible thanks to the support of the Governments of Finland, Malta, and Azerbaijan.

9th Global Forum of the United Nations Alliance of Civilizations to take place in Morocco in 2020

During the UNAOC Group of Friends Ministerial Meeting at the United Nations Headquarters in New York, H.E. Mr. Nasser Bourita, Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation of Morocco, announced that his government will host the ninth Global Forum of UNAOC in 2020. The announcement was welcomed with applause by Members of the UNAOC Group of Friends, especially as it will be the first time a UNAOC Global Forum takes place on the African continent. Previous UNAOC Global Forums were organized in Europe, Asia, and Latin America. (27 September, New York)
